Stationary until there was a general return to the opening figures, sellers being scarce on reports that the Liverpool market had been sold down to cause a lower opening here. But again prices weakened under renewed liquidation. The English market opened slightly higher, but closed at a not loss of 1½612d. The decline here made a full response, which was hardly expected, the Liverpool market being still proportionately much higher than the markets of this country. However, general feeling showed extreme caution, with the visible supply 471,000 ahead of what it was last season, and the movement pointing to a continued increase unless consumption improves, and of this there is no immediate promise, while the amount in sight this week is estimated at 185,000 to 180,000 bales, against 195,004 last year. First of Series Given in Post Office Gymnasium.

The first of a series of social entertainments inaugurated by Branch No. 343, National Association of Letter Carriers, was given Sunday afternoon in the post office gymnasium and reading-rooms. A musical and literary programme was rendered. Postmaster Baumhoff delivered an address. The rooms were crowded by the letter carriers, members of their families and many employes of other departments of the post office.

riers, members of their families and many employes of other departments of the post office.

The opening number of the programme was an overture, rendered by the Letter Carriers' Band. The band was forced to respond to an encore. A piano duet followed, "The Poet and Peasant," by Miss Annie and Otto Eibrecht. Postmaster Baumhoff then addressed the meeting. Mr. Baumhoff referred to the good results that may be expected from such a movement as has been inaugurated by the letter carriers, and said he was convinced that it would do much to bring the officials and employes into closer relationship.

The remainder of the programme consisted of music of various kinds and vaudeville. Miss Rose Braun rendered vocal solos, William Sacks violin selections, Totsie Marks several songs, O. G. Hiller piano selections, Al Foster character impersonations, Frank E. Patton recitations and the National Comedy Four, consisting of James Horton, Edward Duther, Thomas Duffy and Joseph Schultz, did good specialty work. The programme was in the hands of an Entertainment Committee consisting of E. C. Brooks, E. P. Hennessey, E. F. Holle, John Stellern and Charles Stelnmeyer.
